TWELVE YEARS AGO yesterday, Great Britain and Belgium declared war on Germany. The fourth of August, 1914, began the four years, three months and seven days' fighting, that cost millions of lives, more than two hundred billions of money, the war that was to make the world safe for democracy, but didn't.
DEMOCRACY is no better off than it was before, and how things have changed. Twelve years ago London Punch printed a picture of a German with his family at the breakfast table, practicing the hymn of hate. Now England and other European countries have learned that hymn, and they are singing it at poor old Uncle Sam, who lent them ten thousand millions of dollars.

QUIZ 4 HALL SERVANTS; DEVEREAUX COOL WHEN TOLD OF DEATH EDICT

Name Film Faces and Gain World Trip

About to inaugurate the best and biggest motion picture contest ever conducted by a New England newspaper, the Boston Evening American today invites the serious attention of ambitious readers to these outstanding prizes, amongst a large number of extremely valuable awards.

FIRST NATIONAL PRIZE—A trip for two around the world on the steamship Belgianland, queen of the Red Star Line, leaving New York on Tuesday, December 14, 1926, and returning on Sunday, April 24, 1927.

The value of this prize is approximately $4,000.
FIRST LOCAL PRIZE, which MUST be won by some reader of this newspaper—A tour for two of the Mediterranean, on the cruising steamer Orea of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, leaving New York on Saturday, February 26, and returning.

QUIZ 4 HALL SERVANTS; VESTRYMAN IS SOUGHT

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—State Senator Simpson, prosecutor for New Jersey in the revived Hall-Mills inquiry, today ordered state troopers to bring to his office for questioning four servants, and former vestryman of the Hall house.

Mrs. Louise Gist, 81, who was investigated by a statement he filed in the divorce suit, was one of them.

CHILD DIVORCE SUIT PAPERS KEPT SECRET

After an absence of more than nine weeks, during which they were sought by police, radio broadcasters and other agencies, Doris V. Mason and Louise Powers, fifteen-year-old daughters of a wealthy family, were brought by their mother from New York, from which they were, heartless and lone, to Boston, where they are now expressing a keen desire to be home again.

When the regretful sisters were received, the parents of the girls lost no time in hurrying to New York to get them and the reunion was happy one, in spite of the anguish of the two months' search for the missing school girls.

Doris Mason, according to a reliable source, was employed as a waitress in a restaurant in New York.

9 STATE IN MEXICO CHILD DIVORCE CHURCH WAR PAPERS SECRET

Broussard, Pa., Aug. 5.—Richard Washburn Child, former United States Ambassador to Italy, has sued his wife, Mrs. Child, for a writ of habeas corpus, for divorce, records of the Monroe County Common Pleas Court, disclosed today. They were married in August, 1916.

The suit was filed here June 26 last when Judge Samuel E. Shull of the Common Pleas Court, granted a subpoena upon Mrs. Child, returning her to the county on Monday of September next.
Judge Shull declined to discuss the case today and Child, who for several years has been a resident of the exclusive Buckhill Falls colony, in Tharlet township, could not be reached.

Governor Fuller's decision that the carbarn players must die in the electric chair crashed squarely into the hearts of all those most concerned, save only the stoic Devereaux.

Edward J. Heinlein faltered today when Warden Hendry told him that the last appeal had failed.

From an adjoining cell in Charlestown State Prison death house where John J. McLaughlin was listening hungrily to the words that fell from the warden's lips, came an outburst of passionate sobbing.

But John J. Devereaux, the actual killer, sleep through his crisis in his life, a smile on his face. Warden Hendry was compelled to awaken him, and the man greeted the fatal message with a shrug of his shoulders, and turned over on his cot once more.

Over in Brighton who hung the shadow of tragedy when the Governor continued the sentence of death.

Mrs. Margaret McLaughlin, mother of John J. McLaughlin, who here up bravely when the adverse decision was first made known, today, suffered a heart attack early today and physicians fear that she may not survive her son.

Mrs. Devereaux and Mrs. Heinlein are both under the care of physicians, neither mother having slept since the news was taken to them.

At a meeting in the office of Act. Francis J. Higgins, the question of obtaining the Governor's consent to come up for discussion, except of the men and women who had fought so valiantly for the lives of three lads believing that further effort would be futile.

WOBURN MAN DIES IN MYSTERY SHOOTING

Frank Gentry of Campbell street, Woburn, was shot today on the farm of Sam Perella at Marlborough, under mysterious circumstances and died before he could tell the story.

Armed posse of state police, Burlington and Woburn officers, searched the woods on the farm in a hunt for Perella, who is being sought in an effort to throw some light on the tragedy.

State Detectives Sheehan and O'Neill hurried to the scene, immediately after being informed of the shooting.

Preliminary investigation failed to penetrate the mystery. One theory advanced was that Gentry might have been engaged in a fight on the farm, and that he might have been felled by a stray bullet.

The value of the Mediterranean tour, for two, is estimated to be about $2,500.

SECOND NATIONAL PRIZE—A trip for two, a visit for two weeks, to the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia; railroad transportation, hotel expenses, meals and tickets to the Exposition FREE.

Value of the second national prize, about $4,000.

MANY ADDITIONAL PRIZES

SECOND LOCAL PRIZE—Five hundred dollars, IN GOLD.OTHER PRIZES—The complete list will appear from time to time in this newspaper—include free passes to an immense number of motion picture theatres, good for two persons and for one year; a Freshman Console Radio, a library of Grosset & Dunlap novels and a number of Eastman Cine-Kodaks, with which the prize winners may take their own motion pictures.

This new motion picture contest, which The Boston Evening American will begin one week from next Monday, on August 16, will be conducted by this newspaper in co-operation with the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, generally known as the Will H. Hays organization, and in celebration of the opening of a Greater Movie Season.

What is this contest? What qualities does it call for? How difficult will it be?

Briefly here is what it is all about:

Every day, for 20 consecutive publication days, the Boston Evening American will print a scene from some well-known motion picture play.

In each of these 20 contest pictures will be seen the figure of some well-known star who took a leading part in the picture-play.

IDENTIFY STAR AND PLAY

IN THE CONTEST PHOTOGRAPHS PRINTED BY THE BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN THE FACE OF THE STAR WILL BE OBLITERATED.

The task of the contestant will be to identify the star in each of the 20 contest pictures and at the same time write down the names of the photoplays from which the scenes are taken. Then, having named the 20 stars and the 20 photoplays, the contestant will write a letter (not more than 300 words) on "Why I Like the Movies."

Elsewhere in today's Evening American will be found a "sample" picture. This "sample" picture, it must be understood, is NOT part of the contest but is printed for the sole purpose of helping everybody to understand just what will be expected of contestants.

It is all very simple. Nearly everyone has seen the 20 picture-plays from which the contest pictures have been taken, and nearly everyone is familiar with the players who took the leading roles in them. As an aid to memory, however, special clues to the identity of the players and the names of the photoplays will be printed every day.

We all know why we like the movies and it should be a simple task for anyone of us to state his reasons, briefly and clearly, in black and white.

ACCURACY FIRST REQUISITE

The qualification that will count for most in this competition is accuracy. Elaborately mounted or expensively prepared sets of answers will have no advantage whatever. Neither will attempts at "fancy writing." The dominating idea back of this contest is to give every movie lover a chance to win the wonderful prizes which have been provided in honor of the thirtieth birthday of the motion picture. Your aim, therefore, should be: (1) accurate identifications of stars and plays and (2) a clear and convincing statement of your reasons for liking the movies.

The first Contest Picture will be printed in the Boston Evening American of Monday, August 16th. The FINAL Contest Picture will appear on Wednesday, September 8th.

This contest is open to everyone, men and women, boys and girls, except the employees of the Boston Evening American and associated publications and persons identified in any way whatever with the production, distribution or exhibition of motion pictures.

The National prizes—the tour of the world for two on the Beign-Centennial, etc.—may be won by readers of The Evening American. At the close of the Contest the best 25 sets of answers received by The Evening American will be sent to National Headquarters, New York, where a board of judges nominated by President Hays of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America will determine the National awards.

The LOCAL prize, on the other hand, MUST be won by persons residing in communities where the Evening American is regularly on sale, although it is not regulated that contestants buy the paper. These local prizes include a Mediterranean cruise (for two, on the Royal Mail steamship Orca, a each award of $500, other cash awards of a total value of $100 more, a Freshman Console Radio set, a library of 10 Grosset & Dunlap books, and two passes, good for two and for one year, to favorite motion picture theatres.

All that is aimed at today is to let the readers of The Evening American know what is in store for them, to let them know something about the wonderful prizes which await the more successful amongst them, to advise them about the methods by which these rich awards may be won.

More about this contest and its rich prizes will be printed in these columns from day to day. In the meantime, every reader who agrees to a free trip for two around the world, or a free tour of the Mediterranean for two, or $500 in cash, or any of the other splendid prizes, will do well to become familiar with the Rules of the Contest.

Classified is the great time and money saver.

Mexican Thieves Rob Women of Gold Crosses

Mexico City, Aug. 5 (A.P.)—A band of crooks has victimized a number of Catholic women in the streets of Mexico City. They have halted women wearing necklaces with gold crosses and informed that they were detectives and that it was unlawful to wear religious insignia publicly.

The police say the women invariably are frightened, and the thieves confiscate the jewelry.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY OF SLAYING PEABODY GIRL

Too weak to stand up when arraigned for first-degree murder today in Salem District Court, Joseph Bolchuk, charged with slaying twelve-year-old Mary Romanuk of Peabody and the slaying of her mother, pleaded not guilty and was held without bail for a hearing August 13.

Police declared Bolchuk admitted firing the shots that killed the girl when she used her body as a shield to protect her mother, and also that he told of meeting attention paid to Mrs. Lydia Romanuk or other men because he spent $400 on her. He fled after the shooting, July 12, and was arrested near Pittsford, Pa.

disturbances than have been recorded of this sort. In a serious clash at Guadalupe, one of the strongest Catholic centers in the country, six persons are reported to be dead and fourteen wounded. Apparently the conflict is fueling the situation much less than other parts of the Republic, but many business men are filled with foreboding as a result of the situation unless a settlement is reached.

Calles Defies Church's

fire, Defends His Acts

Mexico City, Aug. 5 (A.P.)—President Calles again has defied the intention of his government to enforce, without having the slightest or supernatural punishment, the Mexican constitutional provisions regarding religious freedom.

Calles has replied in this effect to a telegram from Antonio R. G. G. G., President of Peru, who sent the Mexican government a telegram requesting re-establishment of harmony between the government and the Catholic church. The Mexican president would consider President Leguia's telegram a personal insult to the government and implying intervention by a foreign power in Mexico's purely domestic affairs.

"Evidently," the message to the Peruvian president says, "your excellency has not received truthful reports of the Mexican government's attitude regarding the Catholic church, so that your suggestion would be unavailing." The Mexican president would consider President Leguia's telegram a personal insult to the government and implying intervention by a foreign power in Mexico's purely domestic affairs.

FORBID ARMED RESISTANCE

The clergy desire one thing to prevent the development of this transformation, which is universally recognized. The clergy has made public a statement in rebellion against the constitutional law of the country, an attitude which is unbearable not only in countries of the advanced social and political condition of Mexico, but in any other country at present or in past centuries.

"If God is the supreme manifestation of both in individuals and nations, I do not believe in his justice. He has taken sides with those who for more than a century have been responsible in Mexico for internal calamities, international invasions and intrigue, as well as in the conscience of the people." There are no late indications that a peaceful solution of the situation is near, unless they be found in the statement that the church will never give its approval to any armed uprising against the government's religious legislation.

POPE CONDEMNES ACT

Monseigneur Pascual Diaz, bishop of Toluca and secretary of the National Catholic Epiiscopate, has informed the Associated Press. He said that while the church would never approve of an armed uprising, it would "go in Calvary," if necessary, in the present religious struggle. The bishop had uprisings headed by ambitious politicians who pursued worldly gains.

The episcopate in statement asserts the episcopate will accept no settlement of the controversy except that it includes recognition of one right of Catholic priests as Mexican citizens.

COOLIDGES AT GRAVES OF KIN IN VERMONT

By GEORGE E. DURNO.
Falmouth, Vt., Aug. 4.—A ruddy, fashioned wooden windmill is revolving slowly today atop the corner post of the garden fence just across the road from the Coolidge homestead and back of this lies the story of mother love and suffering.

The little windmill was fashioned by Calvin Coolidge, Jr., youngest son of the President, when last he summertime at the home of his grandfather here. He had first set it on the vintage pole on the forepost and and proudly displayed its working to his mother.

ALWAYS RESTORES TOV.
And now, on every visit to the farm, the top is restored to its place by Mrs. Coolidge with a quiet ceremony that is almost ritualistic. A stone is thrown away to the hillside burial ground the boy is buried died just two years and a month.

It was primarily to visit the grave of their son and that of the President's father that Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge returned to Falmouth, Vt., soon after breakfast, they walked down the road and placed new flowers on the graves in the family burial plot.

This little crossroads hamlet offers varying emotions to the President. Three years ago in the family yard his father swore him as chief magistrate of the nation.

SORROWFUL TRIPS.
When next he returned it was to bring the body of his sixteen-year-old son. Two more visits followed, both occasioned by the fear his father was dying and last March he returned to bury the old colonel.

These conflicting emotions, pleasant and unpleasant, preclude the possibility of a prolonged stay at the Coolidge birthplace. It is possible Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will return to their Adirondack camp in time for church services on Sunday. Certainly they will leave for White Pine by Monday or Tuesday.

POZZI SCORES ON RULING IN TEXAS

Houston, Tex., Aug. 5.—Scoring the highest point in his favor in his legal battle with Massachusetts authorities, Charles Pozzi today confidently awaited the final decision in his habeas corpus petition before Judge Charles Ashe.

For a time it appeared that the dagger Italian had indeed won his fight. The judge, after listening intently to opposing counsel, ruled that Assistant Attorney General Alfred Burdick of Massachusetts had failed to substantiate claims to the validity of a Massachusetts indictment against Pozzi, in this state.

Apparently pleased with his decision, the court agreed to wait until today for Mr. Burdick to produce authorities to prove his accusations.

If the court decision is against Pozzi today, it will not end the fight. His attorneys have prepared an appeal to the Texas Court of Appeals, which does not meet until October, thus giving him several months respite.

Testifying in his own behalf here, Pozzi denied his arrest as a violation of the treaty of 1888 between Italy and the United States. He charged the arrest was brought about through force and violence. He stated that he is an Italian citizen and was a member of the crew of the Italian steamship from which he was taken prisoner at New Orleans.

HERO SOLDIERS SAVE DEVENS FROM BLAST

Camp Devens, Aug. 5.—Camp Devens was saved from being blown to atoms when five soldiers, working amid a shower of sparks, moved half a ton of dynamite percussion caps from the path of flames which swept through a warehouse, destroying $15,000 in property.

All of the fire fighters suffered intensely from the heat and three were overcome by smoke while many others were treated for burns. At one time the whole camp was threatened when the flames swept toward the quartermasters stores, but the soldiers aided by apparatus from Ayer, managed to check the fire at this point.

The fire occurred within a few yards of the quarters housing the Citizens Military Training Corps. These boys got their first taste of fire fighting when they turned out to help the regulars.

The burning building was packed with clothing and other supplies. Thirty five feet away was another building in which was stored 1000 pounds of percussion caps. The fire threatened to spread to this building and sparks glowed down over the roof. Captain Raymond B. Hemenway, Captain L. L. Clayton, Corporal Paul P. Payton and Private George Payton and John Kosnak rushed to remove the explosives.

In constant danger from falling sparks and blinded by smoke the men labored steadily until the entire store of caps was removed.

The three men overcome, who were taken to the hospital were Duran A. Laddie of the quartermasters corps, Private Joseph A. Gormley of the Ninth Tank Company and Private Charles W. Polkey of the Fifth Infantry.

Polkey narrowly missed plunging into the blazing building when he was overcome. Working on the roof with no axe, he had climbed a large hole when he was seen to pitch and strike the ground he collapsed.

WILD MAN QUITS WOODS TO EAT 'HOT DOGS'

East Bridgewater, Aug. 5.—Deep in the heart of the heavy wooded region here, a nude hermit known to children for miles around as the "wild man of the forest," has taken refuge in a cave to avoid contact with civilization.

Women and children who have seen the hermit, more ape than human, armed with bludgeon and sitting naked on a fence close to Rump Pond on the Halifax line, have fed in terror.

Only after darkness comes does the "wild man" emerge from the woods. Driven desperate by need of water and food, he comes daily to Melvin Park Inn. There, Charles Johnson, the owner, provides him with drink and "hot dogs."

"He comes to the well here every morning at four o'clock," says Johnson. Sometimes he wears a pair of ragged trousers that reach to his knees. He is badly sunburned and his long hair prevents anyone from identifying him.

"He has lived in a shack in the woods close to the camp of George Wolcott, the husband of the victim of the famous suitcase mystery. Last week his shack burned down and he lost all his clothes. He appears to have been affected mentally since."

Johnson says he suggested that the man go to the postfarm, but the hermit appeared not to hear him and ran off to the woods.

Russell Stevens, who lives opposite Rump Pond, always feared for its snakes, reported to police he heard a man's muffled call for help come from a machine parked near his home.

When he and neighbors reached the spot the machine was speeding down the road towards Halifax and a man's foot was sticking off in the woods at the spot where some of persons have reported seeing the "wild man."

The Stevens children are forbidden to play in the woods after dark, and even men admit they are timid to venture far from the road.

Look at Japan. She was actually one of the Allies from the start. She beat Germany in her own neighborhood, took territory that she wanted, didn't send a dollar or a man to Europe—except a few officers to get information for Japan. Europe doesn't hate Japan, she knew enough to keep out of it.

A WEST REPUBLICAN and a wet Democrat are nominated in Missouri, despite efforts of the Anti-Slavery League and Women's Christian Temperance Union.

In New York, Senator Wade, described by his opponents as a wet, and by his supporters as a man of common sense, will be nominated for Senator, and, according to those that understand New York politics, he will be re-elected.

Generally speaking, elections from now on will drift more and more into "wet" or "dry" contests. That is the real issue.

This doesn't refer to the Presidency. Calvin Coolidge has a better sense than wet or dry. It is "high property."

A BIGGAR arrested in New York's Chinatown yesterday, expected to be held under $10,000 bail. When police took a roll containing more than $12,000 from him, he offered to put up $1,000 cash. This is a prosperous country, where even beggars have $12,000.

THE MEXICAN controversy will be long drawn out. One priest, of Vera Cruz, accepting Celler's regulations, has had his church returned to him with full authority to officiate.

One of Calver's men, an Alderman in the State of Guerrero, closing a church by order of the government, was killed by the mob. He is said to have fired upon Catholics surrounding the church. The boycott by Catholics has diminished theatre attendance and much other spending of money.

FROM MORROW dispatches describe the transfer of orthodox churches from the old established priesthood to the new Bolshevik church, which is called "The New Living Church." Whereas in Mexico crowds, and women especially, protect the Catholic priests, in Russia six priests of the orthodox church are attacked by the mob, women in the crowd spitting in the priests' faces.

YOU READ in the Bible about Jealousy, marvelously well described. Men understand its power only when it is shown in real life.

Joseph Millman was separated from his wife, who took it very much to heart. She called him on the telephone and their little boy, three years old, through the telephone said, "Hello, Daddy." The mother corrected him, "Don't say, 'Hello, Daddy.' Say 'Good-bye, Daddy.'" The child obeyed. Then the mother said: "It seems the only way I can get ahead of you is to kill our boy." She did kill the child and herself.

The husband buried them both yesterday afternoon. That was a real "bad word."

IT IS LEGAL for a lady to wear stockings rolled down, but who mustn't roll them down in public with men looking. Magistrate Overager, of New York, settled that. It was hot. Miss Frances Bathurst stopped on the street to roll them down. A policeman, shocked, reported, "She scandalized the men and got fresh." She spent the night in prison, and gave to the House of the Good Shepherd for three months.

Our laws and our fashions are experimental. A DISPATCH from Italy says: "All public manifestations of a charitable, intellectual or sporting character" but in line with the thought and purposes of Fascism, "will be forbidden."

IT IS AN INTERESTING program and not new. They tried it in Spain, where it worked well for a while, about 1,600 years ago. A great religious exhibition tried it with a subjugation and subjugation in South America. Indian race and subjugation. That race got discouraged, stopped having children and the experiment failed. It is not as easy as some men think, to manage men.

QUIZ FOUR HALL SERVANTS; VESTRYMAN IS SOUGHT

Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor H. Hall, choir singer in his New Brunswick church.

Five Jersey City detectives were assigned to check up on the story of a woman lending over the bodies of the slain couple. This woman was quoted as telling the press: "I am sure I would be able to identify the man and woman seen near the bodies."

HUNT FOR GORSLINE.
Senator Simpson today said he had ordered the arrest of Ralph V. M. Gorsline, vestryman and choir singer in Rev. Hall's New Brunswick church.

The nature of the warrant was not made public by the prosecutor. Gorsline's whereabouts were not disclosed.

Another warrant issued named Mrs. Nellie L. Russell, a negro, as a material witness. Informed of the warrant, she walked on her front porch, about three-quarters of a mile from the crab apple tree under which the bodies were found, to be arrested.

HUSBAND PLAYS CARDS.
Her husband spent most of the night playing cards with newspapermen on the ground under the headlights of half a dozen automobiles. Newspapermen also watched the house of the man.

Mr. Russell's testimony in the previous investigation did much to show that that of Mrs. Wilson, who swore that she saw Mrs. Hall bedding over the bodies, was untrue. After a conversation with attorneys for the slain man's widow, now on trial charged with the murder, made affidavit that at the time in question Mrs. Gibson was at the Russell home discussing a story for.

Two Loads of Detectives Arrive at Somerville.
Somerville, N. J. Aug. 5 (A.P.)—

Two automobiles filled with Jersey City detectives, who are investigating the Hall-Bathurst murder mystery, arrived here shortly after noon today. The men from one car went to the State police headquarters where they went into conference with police officials.

The other detectives went to County Judge Cleary, but would not say if it was to have him sign warrants. He declined further comment.

FOURTH OF JULY PRANK LEADS TO BOY'S DEATH.
Chambers, Kan., Aug. 5 (A.P.)—As the indirect result of playing a 4th of July prank, Volney Davis, 15, died here last night from gunshot wounds inflicted by Roy Spickard, deputy sheriff at Kumbul, near here.

Peercy threw a lighted firecracker which set a bystander's trousers afire. Later the man gave him a beating. Peercy returned with his father, Brown Peercy. The deputy sheriff arrested the father, but the boy ran and got a pistol. Spickard said, Spickard fired, getting the boy in the abdomen.

MRS. MCCORMICK TO TRY GRANT'S CARRIAGE.
Chicago, Aug. 5 (A.P.)—The Presidential carriage of General Grant, prized relic of the Stalwart Company, which built it half a century ago, has been brought to Chicago for Saturday's sale, marking the 100th anniversary of the service by the Illinois Central Railroad, and the new new terminal electrification.

Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick will ride in the historic carriage.

BROTHER FEARS SLAYER'S FATE

While the death house at State Prison was the scene of tragedy today, less than a mile away another man heard the word that the Carban slayers must die with a sinking heart.

That man is Peter J. McLaughlin, brother of John J. McLaughlin, one of the death house inmates charged with being the leader of the band that slew James Fennell at the Waltham club.

Peter McLaughlin will have the awful experience of outliving his mates with the threat of life that before his eyes.

In addition to the awful torture of having his wife testify against him, if the woman follows the course she decided upon, when her husband was captured, at that

HUSBAND CUT OFF BY WIFE CALLS WILL VOID

West Palm Beach, Fla., Aug. 5 (A.P.)—Helen W. Cronk, 35, prominent in Tammany Hall politics, will contest the will of her husband, Julia Sanders Cronk, on the ground that she voided the testament he executed today. The will leaves her home and real estate at Lambertville, N. J., known as "Lambertville," to the Roman Catholic Church, in Lambertville. The rest of the estate was bequeathed equally to the Presentation convent, N. Y., and John Ford Taylor, "faithful friend and helper."

Time she said she was ready to testify against him. Peter McLaughlin was not taken until long after the other men had been captured. Then the long arm of the law reached to the top of a building in the heart of New York City and plucked McLaughlin from his tar-scented and note to face the threat of the chair.

He has been held without bail in the East Cambridge jail since his capture.

PRIEST AN HOUR IN DEATH CELL

Rev. Michael J. Murphy, spent an hour with Devereaux, Heinen and McLaughlin after Warden Hendry had given them the news that they must die.

He said that "What will happen to me now is there any other appeal?" He said that "I will have no more time and they must resign themselves to their fate."

Carban Nemesis

He said that "I will have no more time and they must resign themselves to their fate."

VERDICT SHOCK TO SISTERS

A crowd of sympathizers gathered around her. The daughters broke down and cried. Miss Karen McLaughlin, Brighton telephone operator, who has taken the face of her brother very seriously, grasped her mother by the arm, saying:

"Mother, don't be so terrible. I don't think of poor John. I don't think of Governor Follen. I think of my own mother. Try and have strength enough to bear up under this ordeal. We must not give up our fight, mother."

Mrs. McLaughlin looked utterly sickly into her charming daughter's eyes and said:

"Noreen, dear, I have read so much. I have no more tears left. My eyes are all dried up. I can't believe they are going to kill my dear John. It shall not be. It is my friends' consolation. I am so nervous I can hardly walk. I must bear up under this strain for your sake and for John's sake. Before the week is over if nothing happens to me."

Carban Victim's Widow Sorry for Mothers

Mrs. James Fennell, widow of the Carban under victim, today found no room in her heart for sympathy for his slayers.

"I can't say that I am sorry for the three men," she said, "but I am very sorry for the mothers."

When I signed the petition for clemency I signed it for the mothers.

"There is no more to be said by me or anybody else. The law must take its course."

I am going to Governor Follen myself and plead for my Johnnie's life. The Governor will have to listen to me.

SWEDISH ROYAL PAIR GIVE US BOUQUET

Adolph and Louise Tell Us Wheat a Great Nation They Found U. S.

San Francisco, Aug. 5 (A.P.)—Ex-pressing admiration for the American people in general and characterizing the growth of the nation's cities and industries as "phenomenal," Crown Prince Gustaf Adolph of Sweden, who accompanied by Princess Louise, sailed for Honolulu yesterday, issued a statement giving his impressions gained on a month's tour of the country. The Prince warmly voiced his appreciation of the "spirit of friendship manifested by everyone."

Commenting upon the "impressions" of the royal pair, the statement said: "We have been struck by the phenomenal, rapid and continued growth of the cities and the way they are attempting to cope with the resulting traffic and building problems and to combine utility with the growing need to preserve beauty and to beautify."

"We have admired the remarkable organization of some of your world industries where labor-saving and efficiency, combined with good quality, seem to have attained their utmost. A strong organization seems to be achieved by the best development of your citizens and other means of transportation which I have pointed out several times."

"The high standing of your seats of learning, your valuable contributions to scientific research, your museums and other collections, as well as your libraries and the great interest the public takes in them—all these and many other things prove not only a high educational standard and a high level of science and the arts, but also a strong trend to improve and better achievements."

The royal pair will enjoy themselves as tourists for two weeks in Hawaiian Islands and will not be treated as royal guests.

Ernest Torrence in 'The King of Kings'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS, Motion Picture Editor of Universal Service.

LOS ANGELES, August 5.—Ernest Torrence, who, some weeks ago, I decided to forsake the life of a contract player to free lance, has chosen "The King of Kings" as his first independent vehicle. Torrence, who only reached Los Angeles after a trip home to Scotland, a few days ago, will play Peter, the Beloved, one of the most important roles in Cecil De Mille's Biblical epic.

I happen to know when the popular Scotchman reached Los Angeles, he was besieged with offers from various companies. That he should choose the saintly role of Peter was not surprising. As his first motion picture produced under Famous Players-Lasky, it is interesting. Torrence's Bill Jackson, the sturdy old playman and philosopher in "The Covered Wagon," gave him the reputation for playing an entirely different character. Even before the days of Bill Jackson, he made a reputation for himself as the cruel mountaineer in "Tollable David."

Torrence gave as his reason for leaving Famous Players-Lasky, his desire to do something different. In choosing Peter, he has certainly had the courage of his convictions.

WE ARE ABOUT TO SEE Leonardo da Vinci's famous painting of Mona Lisa in the movies. Arthur Maude who produced "The Vision" in colors for Technicolor is further experimenting along the line of art by bringing other paintings to the screen.

Hedra Hooper has drawn the role of the lady with the inscrutable smile. It seems that Mona is not the only figure in the picture, for Crawford Kent and Arthur Shaw are also satelites in the glory of Mona.

AFTER ALL NEX INGRAM's earnest protestations that he would not return to America, he has changed his mind. But then all thought he would. Any young man who has been in this country that Rex has achieved, should not seek other lands.

Jack Gilbert who has never ceased saying complimentary things about Rex's work in "The Big Parade," will have Miss Adolene as his leading lady in "The Day of Souls," a crook story brought to the screen by Tod Browning.

I understand the title will be changed from the original one given the story by the author, Charles Tenny Jackson.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY

Orange Polo Players to Battle Home Quartette on Princemere Field in Match Game

VELVET GREEN TURF IN the pink of condition at Princemere and spirited polo ponies also "in the pink" await the advent of tomorrow's match play between picked Princemere team and the visiting Orange players now on the North Shore.

TOMORROW'S PLAY is followed by a Sunday match, on the same splendid polo field. Society at the North Shore and for many miles in either direction will be out for the exciting sport event of the week-end.

THE ORANGE VISITORS already domiciled at the cottages on the Frederick Henry Prince estate at Wrentham include Wing Commander Wise, one of England's finest, and stars of the American field, such as Averill Hartman, "Tommy" Hitchcock, Jr. (known widely for the mallet swing), J. Chever Cowdin and Louis E. Soddard.

FREDERICK PRINCE, the younger, captain the Princemere and his mates are Robert E. Birkwright, Jr., Harry East and Wing Commander Wise. Lord Woodhouse, leaving England for America next Wednesday, is the final star to add to the galaxy.

ALL THIS IN PREPARATION for the Runners and Philadelphia tournaments and later, in the autumn, play at Meadowbrook for the Money Veterinary cup. The North Shore set, polo-wise, will turn out almost en masse to form a bright corusc about the beautifully situated field.

IN A MATCHLESS SETTING, turf smooth as velvet, set about with dense woods, are the two fields at Princemere. The Frederick Henry field has recently been brought to KENNEDYPORT, on the Maine coast, Summer home of various wretched personages, is another way station down for a visit in the itinerary of the van. A stock of useful and beautiful things is replenished after each onslaught so sales may go merrily on.

IN PHILANTHROPIC WATERS, the North Shore's climax for the week comes with the sale for Benjamin Siskin's Cattle Memorial Hospital, Ipswich. Of course, Ipswich is out to do herself proud in this affair, and other colonies are close seconds.

MISS ROGER WARNER is an ardent hospital worker, and the Argilla Red Community, almost in a woman, is helping engineer a flow of dollars to that handsome institution that is a landmark of the beautiful island section.

Character and Reputation

NO matter when or where you motor in Soconyland you will always be sure of finding Socony pumps. Every road and highway of importance displays them at frequent intervals.

This is a feature of Socony service that is unsurpassed by anybody.

But more than this—even more than the universal courtesy with which Socony Gasoline is dispensed—is the unsurpassed merit of the product itself.

No matter what the task, Socony Gasoline never fails you.

Day in and day out it just eats up the miles and makes the hills lie down.

Socony Gasoline is the preference of millions of satisfied motorists because anywhere, at any time, it gives the utmost in motoring satisfaction.

TREASURY MAN IN BOSTON IS A BIG PROBLEM

By FRANK H. MELLON, Financial Editor.

Long ago we noted in this column the fact that many studies of the traffic problems before private motor vehicles might have to be barred from downtown Boston to solve the traffic problem. Before many months, the Chamber of Commerce committee on municipal and metropolitan affairs, expects this problem.

I understand that a traffic commission is the belief that present restrictions are sufficient, but the plan on all sides is for more traffic officers. Mr. Smith introduces a new commission to solve the traffic problem.

The "recent" report by the commission to Thomas H. Martin, mind Mark Twain's saying about the weather, but nobody does anything about it. The situation is such that it is not possible to put in more traffic officers.

Leaders in business and finance are much stirred up over traffic commission. The Boston situation may be relieved next year when capital insurance goes into effect. It is expected that eventually to drive a good many business cars off the road.

Mr. Smith introduces a new commission to solve the traffic problem. The "recent" report by the commission to Thomas H. Martin, mind Mark Twain's saying about the weather, but nobody does anything about it.
